If you see someone without a smile
Give them yours.

What are undiscovered ends?
They are the people we haven't met,
They are the places we haven't been to,
That shooting star or blazing comet,
That discovered gateway we haven't walked through.

The doors of the future have been opened. Now the time has come for us to walk through them. Some of us are glad to be leaving, some of us aren't. Some of us have a fairly good idea of what to expect on the other side, and others haven't any idea. The other side of the door holds the future for all of us, and you don't even need a pass to go through it.

SCHOOLS

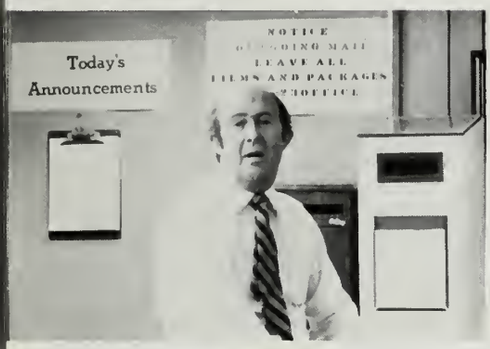
SUPERINTENDENT OF

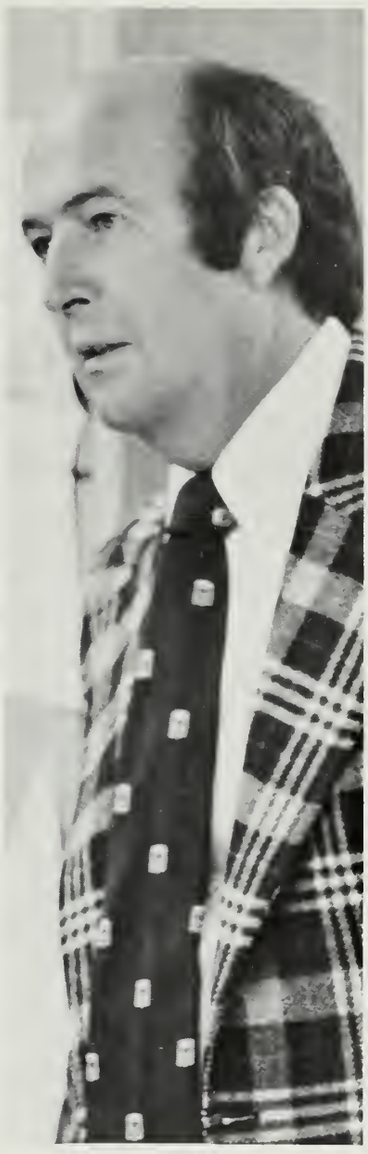
To the Class of 1979,

Congratulations on your impending graduation from Brockton High School.

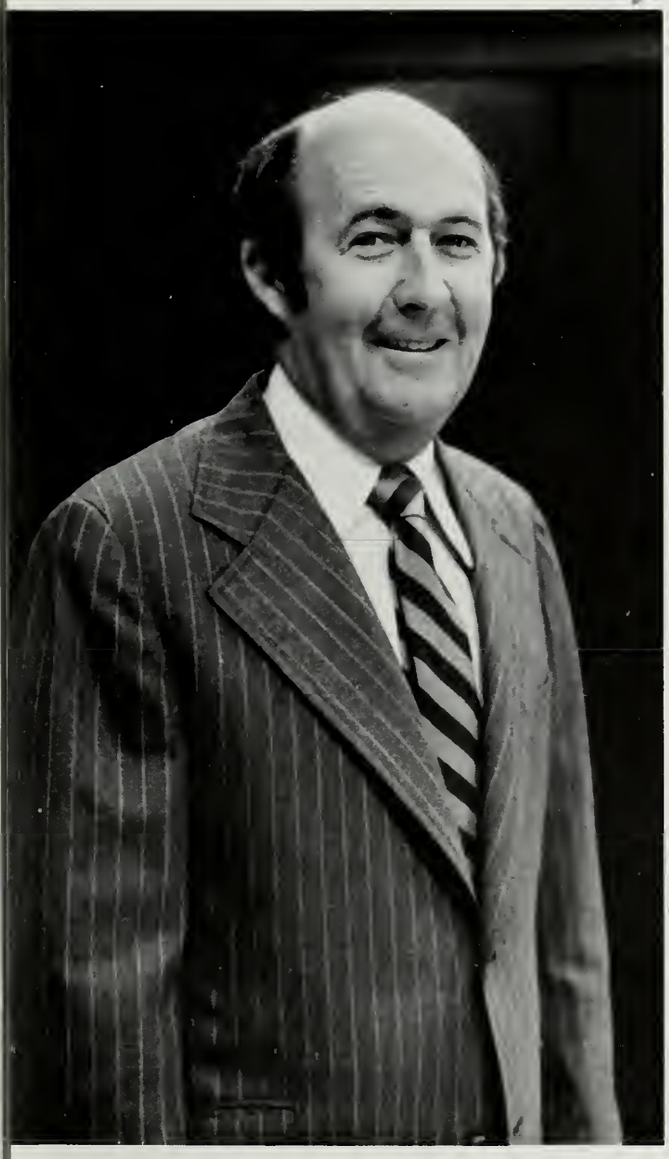
This class has distinguished itself through the talents and accomplishments of its members who have helped make Brockton High School one of the finer secondary schools in the Commonwealth.

The spirit of action and achievement of the Class of 1979 has established a rich heritage at Brockton High School.





PRINCIPAL



Robert F. Reagan

Congratulations and best wishes to the class of 1979. For some of you it is your final year of formal schooling before joining society's work force. For others it is merely your last step in secondary school before moving into higher education.

I sincerely hope that all of you reach your desired objectives and are successful in whatever endeavor you have chosen.

You have had the opportunity to receive an education in one of the finest high schools in the country. You are well prepared for your future and I hope your memories of the past four years at Brockton High School will stay with you forever.

Robert F. Reagan

Robert F. Reagan, Principal

GRADUATES:

The secret of being productive through seizing opportunities lies in getting into the habit of living with expectancy. It will make your eyes sharper in their search for opportunity. Looking for opportunities and taking advantage of them makes life worth living. There are many tough questions plaguing business and society, but no matter how many answers have been turned up, the best may have been left for you.

With best personal regards, I remain

John F. Ryan
Housemaster

HOUSEMASTERS

John F. Ryan - Green House

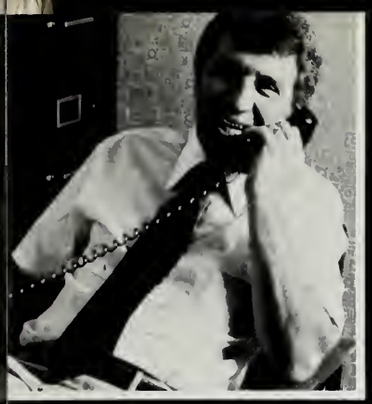
To the Class of 1979:

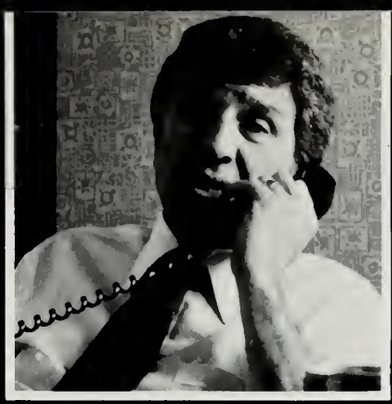
Soon the excitement of graduation will permeate these hallowed halls of Brockton High School and for you, the Class of 1979, it will mark a milestone in your lives and the reward for having persevered. For your parents who have nurtured you from infancy and watched you grow to maturity, who have guided you, loved you and prodded you, it will be a very proud day.

As members of the faculty, we congratulate you and thank you for having shared the past several years with us. We, also, are proud of you and extend our sincere best wishes that the lives of each of you will be filled with happiness and satisfaction.

Good luck! Our blessings go with you.

Mario D. DiMarzo
Housemaster, Red House
Brockton High School





Chris D. Argys - Azure House

Congratulations!

Your high school graduation is only the beginning of many more tomorrows filled with all of the opportunities and challenges that life has to offer - May your days be forever pleasant and rewarding, your ambitions and hopes realized.

Tomorrow is just a day away!

Good luck,

Chris D. Argys

MESSAGE TO GRADUATES

On this very momentous occasion it gives me much pleasure to congratulate you, graduates of Brockton High School, Class of 1979! I trust that your school memories are predominantly happy recollections. It is hoped that through the guidance of your parents and teachers and through your own efforts of the past twelve years you have attained the skills and knowledge which will enable you to successfully commence another phase of life.

Really, your life is just beginning. The process of education must continue, as it requires continued growth. Strive to seek a harmony and balance in your endeavors. Be creative, resourceful, industrious, and - above all - tolerant of others. Leave a trail of happiness in your path. Always seek new and greater heights as each new vantage point will reveal a further realm to conquer. Have the courage and strength to make the world a better place by giving of yourself and by sharing your unique abilities and talents with others.

My best to you in all of your pursuits.

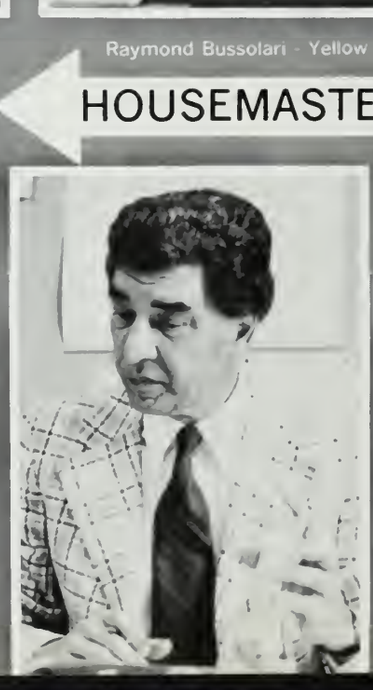
ASSISTANT HOUSEMASTERS



John M. Mahoney

Upon receipt of your yearbook, it will be just a matter of days before graduation, and the close of your secondary graduation, and the close of your secondary education at Brockton High School. I join with other members of the administration and faculty in wishing you every possible success in whatever endeavor you decide to undertake. Whether it be further schooling, work, military service, or domestic life- we believe you are well prepared to meet the demands and challenges of adult life. It has been quoted often that "the happiest day of one's life are those years spent in high school". Now, you face the realities and responsibilities that go with life in a very complex society. Just as you coped successfully with your previous twelve years of public school education - I know that each of you will go in the future to be constructive and involved citizens.

Best wishes for both your continued success and good health!

Sincerely,

John M. Mahoney

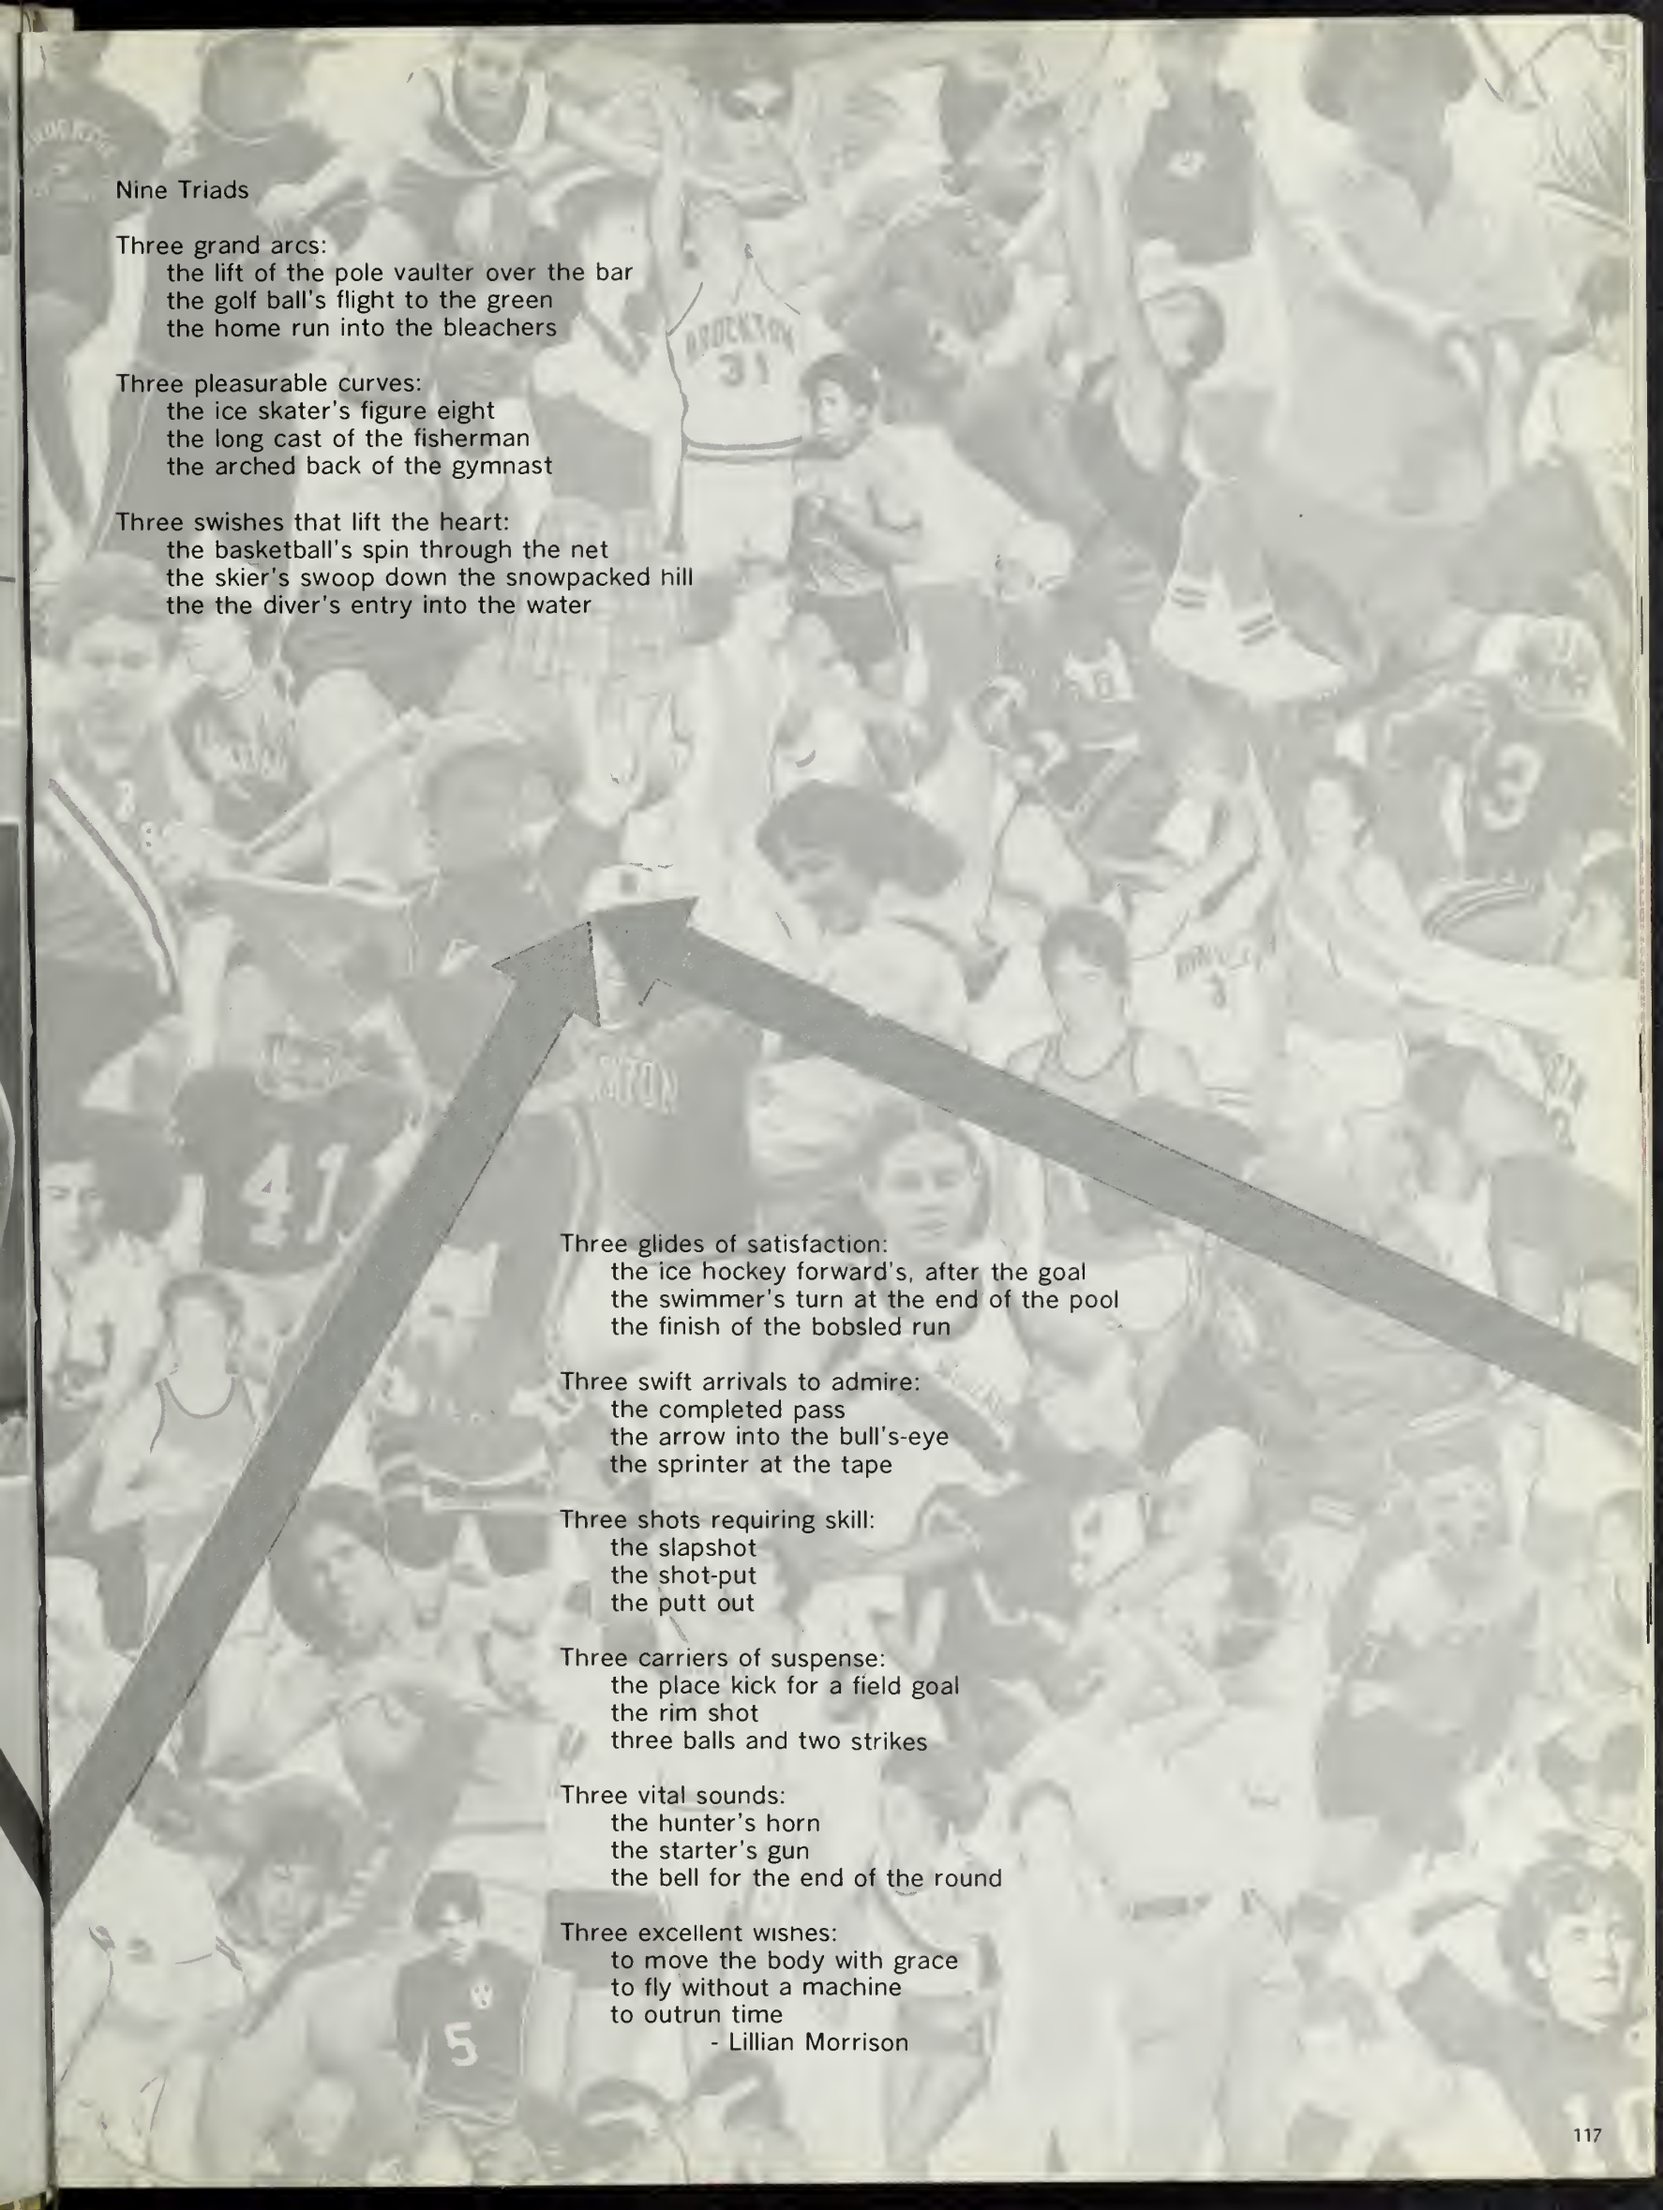
GIRL'S TENNIS



Nine Triads

Three grand arcs:
the lift of the pole vaulter over the bar
the golf ball's flight to the green the home run into the bleachers

Three pleasurable curves:
the ice skater's figure eight
the long cast of the fisherman the arched back of the gymnast

Three swishes that lift the heart:
the basketball's spin through the net
the skier's swoop down the snowpacked hill the the diver's entry into the water

Three glides of satisfaction:
the ice hockey forward's, after the goal
the swimmer's turn at the end of the pool the finish of the bobsled run

Three swift arrivals to admire:
the completed pass the arrow into the bull's-eye
the sprinter at the tape

Three shots requiring skill:
the slapshot
the shot-put the putt out

Three carriers of suspense:
the place kick for a field goal
the rim shot
three balls and two strikes

Three vital sounds:
the hunter's horn
the starter's gun
the bell for the end of the round

Three excellent wishes:
to move the body with grace to fly without a machine to outrun time

- Lillian Morrison

Walking
hand in hand
down the road of fall.
Bright leaves
in colors and shapes,
as if painted on a wall.

The steps we imprint
are sealed to the ground,
revealing each moment
of our lives
and its many sounds.

As we slowly travel to the end and our path is through, we recall the stillness of our youth, Whether old,
or whether new.

"... Come my friends,
'Tis not too late to seek a newer world ...

Though much is taken, yet much abides; and though
We are not now that strength which in old days Moved earth and heaven, that which we are, we are One equal temper of heroic hearts,
Made weak by time and fate, but strong in will
To strive, to seek, to find, and not to yield."

It hasn't been long since you went away.
We are all still wondering why you had to go,
And why you could not stay.
You left behind many memories,
That no one could ever replace.
Your smile, the laughter, your face still remain with us,
And always will.
You were always there when a friend needed you,
And always showed how much you cared.
Time went by so fast for you,
I feel you had so much more than anyone can know,
And I'm still wondering why you had to go.

SATURDAY SAILING
AT PETER'S POND

Pushed smoothly to the left, and whisked off quickly
to the right.
She turns, and her canvas fills with air.
Bold stripes of yellow ripple and flap
in the midst of an uncertain
breeze,
the water cooling
the fiberglass.
The canvas fills,
she bends low,
and her mainsail skips along the waves,
teasing the wind
into a wild fury.
Almost over, but she skims
the salty surface, pulling up gently, steadily.
She plays with the wind, fooling him
and hiding behind a neutral wave.

Mastering her, I lean back to balance this struggle for power.
The wind blows hard,
while the boat glides
faster.
She almost tips,
and a lump of excitement
finds its way
to my throat.
The contest begins,
but I let her sail loose
and lean,
I lean back with experience.
